A fabulous feast

The richest knights owned castles. They often hosted lavish feasts, with menus that included roasted peacocks, stuffed swans and succulent pies, marzipan castles, honeycakes and other luxury desserts. A procession of pages paraded the dishes in front of the guests before the food was cut up and served.

Make up a magnificent menu for a feast in the space below.